Small Country with Big Problems

Pollution in air, water, and soil may not always be visible, but it can cause harm to humans and animals. Pollution can be sometimes identified by sight and smell. One of the best things you can do to stop pollution is to decrease the use of cars. For example, if the weather is nice and you don't have to drive long distance, you can either walk or ride your bike. This will help reducing air pollution and you will get some exercise and fresh air along the process.
